Mustard Seed Thoughts is a new series of books that examine frequently asked questions about the Christian faith and the author's struggle to find answers. Each chapter finishes with questions for individuals to ponder.

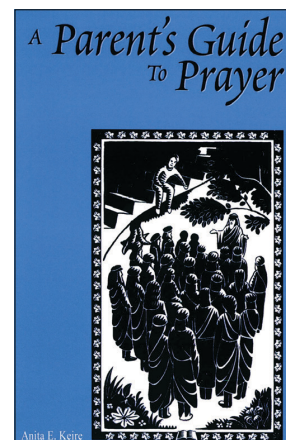

Book 1 covers biblical history and stories and their relevance for today. Just as Moses' mother and Pharaoh's daughter defied the evil of their day, so must we. This book covers life, love, good, evil, doubt, faith, trust, worldly temptations, and spiritual challenges.

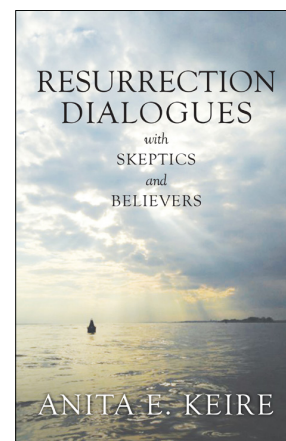

In Book 2 we can say that our lives are like David's when he confronted Goliath. With God's help we need to stand up unafraid to the evil challenges in our lives that may defeat us. Some moral, spiritual, physical, emotional, and psychological challenges that confront us in our daily lives are examined.

Helps parents and teachers understand prayer for themselves and their children.

Examines divergent resurrection beliefs through the centuries within the Jewish and Christian faith communities.

The dialogue continues with spirited discussions about Jesus' birth, mission, teachings, miracles, parables, suffering, and death as well as the difficult times his first century followers experienced.

This ten grade-level Mustard Seed Series offer churches, religious schools, homes, seekers, the non-affiliated, and believers the necessary tools to learn as well as teach others the rudiments of the Christian faith. With the help of this Series, they can take on the responsibility of educating and forming their children, other children, and themselves in becoming committed Christians.
